Robust, stable in value – and incredibly practical for loading heavy or bulky goods. Equipped with a low loading height of 650 mm and 12" tires, these high-loader models are the first choice for safe transport. The low ramp angle increases loading comfort: no lengthy handling is required, allowing quick and easy loading and unloading. This appeals to professionals in trade, craft, and industry, for whom smooth work and transport processes are particularly important. Of course, you can also count on the long-lasting and value-stable Böckmann quality you've come to expect.
